

CODE OF CONDUCT FOR MEMBERS, FREEMEN, FRIENDS AND VISITORS TO THE COMPANY OF CUTLERS IN HALLAMSHIRE

1. INTRODUCTION

The Company of Cutlers in Hallamshire, recognises the right of all Members, Freemen, Friends, visitors and staff, attending Cutlers' Hall, to be treated with respect and dignity, within an environment of mutual respect and tolerance. The Company expects all people to be treated on that basis.

2. SCOPE

This Code of Conduct applies to all visitors to Cutlers' Hall in Sheffield, including Company Members, Freemen, Friends, guests and company/agency staff. Members and Freemen are responsible for the conduct of their guests. Relevant managers are to ensure that all staff, including zero hours staff and agency staff are briefed regarding this code of conduct.

3. CONDUCT

Visitors to Cutlers' Hall are expected to behave in a manner which demonstrates respect for others and must not engage in any conduct or activity which is abusive, threatening or offensive to staff and/or other visitors to the Company. Such behaviour may amount to harassment or bullying, as defined in law.

WHAT IS HARRASSMENT?

Harassment is any unwanted physical, verbal or non-verbal conduct that has the purpose or effect of violating a person's dignity or creating an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for them. A single incident can amount to harassment.

Harassment also includes treating someone less favourably because they have submitted or refused to submit to such behaviour in the past.

Unlawful harassment may involve conduct of a sexual nature (sexual harassment), or it may be related to age, disability, gender reassignment, marital or civil partner status, pregnancy or maternity, race, colour, nationality, ethnic or national origin, religion or belief, sex or sexual orientation. Harassment is unacceptable, even if it does not fall within any of these categories.

Harassment may include, for example:

- Unwanted physical conduct or “horse play”, including touching, pinching and grabbing;
- Unwelcome sexual advances or suggestive behaviour (which the harasser may perceive as harmless);
- Offensive emails, text messages or social media content; and/or
- Mocking, mimicking or belittling a person’s disability.

A person may be harassed even if they were not the intended “target”. For example, a person may be harassed by racist jokes about a different ethnic group, if the jokes create an offensive environment.

WHAT IS BULLYING?

Bullying is offensive, intimidating, malicious or insulting behaviour, involving the misuse of power, that can make a person feel vulnerable, or upset, humiliated, undermined or threatened. Power does not always mean being in a position of authority but can include both personal strength and the power to coerce through fear or intimidation.

Bullying can take the form of physical, verbal and nonverbal conduct. Bullying may include, by way of example:

- Physical or psychological threats;
- Overbearing and intimidating levels of supervision; and/or
- Inappropriate derogatory remarks about someone’s performance.

Legitimate, reasonable and constructive criticism of a member of staff’s performance or behaviour, or reasonable instructions given to members of staff in the course of their employment, will not amount to bullying on their own.

4. GENERAL CONDUCT

Set out below are further examples of behaviour which the Company of Cutlers in Hallamshire considers to be unacceptable and which will not be tolerated, whether or not it amounts to harassment or bullying, as outlined above:

- Offensive behaviour under the influence of alcohol;
